Sheriff Peck is now sick; the state is also quite nauseated.

Vermont's three colleges are now boasting of the "biggest ever" classes, in which respect they are very much like the other institutions throughout the country.

Look about you; statistics show that there are now living nine persons, sixteen years or over, who will be president of the United States during the next forty years. This is on the assumption that no man shall be elected more than twice. The choice is exceedingly narrow.

By their unanimous nomination of Lieutenant Governor Curtis Guild as a gubernatorial candidate the Massachusetts Republicans show they have nothing against the promotion rule. Zed Stanton of Roxbury might have wished three years ago that Vermont Republicans felt the same.

STAFFORD'S "MAKING OF VERMONT."

Judge Wendell P. Stafford, a native of Barre, who is now associate justice of the supreme court of the District of Columbia, continues to win laurels as an orator. Judge Stafford gave his address, "Making of Vermont," before the first annual reunion of the Vermont association of Northampton, Mass., Tuesday evening, and from the latter part of the address we quote the following words, breathing loyalty to the state of his birth: "Unity of ideal, purpose and effort,—that is what makes a state. The people of the New Hampshire grants were made one by their resolve to defend their homes against the court at Albany; by their zeal in the colonial cause and contempt for the lagging policy of New York; by their welcome of the Declaration of Independence, so perfectly suiting their own case; by their ambition to frame a government fit for the sons of Puritans; but most of all by the efforts they put forth, by their toil, their dangers, their hardships and their sufferings. The outcome of their long trial and struggle was that peerless and costly product, a nation—a people one in purpose, effort and ideal. She was one people then—she is one people still. The qualities that marked her out to be a nation by herself are hers today. She has always had an individuality and character of her own. To say that a word or a deed was like Vermont has always been to praise it and to give it the highest praise. She has been first on many fields. She gave the first blood of the Revolution, at Westminster; received the first surrender of a British flag, at Ticonderoga; was first to seize and sell the property of Tories; first to prohibit slavery by bill of rights, and first to answer Lincoln's call for volunteers. I am proud that she could not be enslaved, herself,—prouder still that she would not enslave others."

DR. DEAN ARRESTED.

Lebanon, N. H., Sept. 28.—Dr. Elmer E. Dean, a leading physician of this place, was arrested Tuesday afternoon by Deputy Sheriff Claude Murray of Canaan, upon an action brought by Edgar S. Woodward, a druggist, also of Lebanon, for $15,000 damages, for the alienation of his wife's, Phoebe A. Woodward, affections.

The writ was immediately received for by several leading business men. The case dates back to the granting of a libel for divorce by Judge Stone at Laconia in 1904, in which suit for divorce, Dr. Dean was named as co-respondent.

The attorneys named on the writ are Branch & Branch, and Scott Stone. The text of the writ recites that the defendant on the 13th day of June, 1897, at Lebanon, and at other times, between that day and June, 1903, had unjustly continued to injure the plaintiff and estrange his wife from him, so that he was compelled to sue for a divorce; and that his domestic peace, comfort and happiness had been destroyed.

The bond of $15,000 is for appearance at the November term of court for Garfield county to be held the third Tuesday in November in this place.

SEVENTY-SEVEN SUICIDES.

Were Committed in State of Maine in the Last Year.

Augusta, Me., Sept. 28.—From figures compiled by Dr. A. C. Young, registrar of vital statistics, it is found that in the last year in this state, seventy-seven persons committed suicide against fifty for the preceding year. Of the number sixty were males and seventeen females.

On account of the added length to the new Double-breasted Coat, the collar, lapels, location of pockets, etc.,—all had to be changed. This, of course, entirely changed its appearance. The new garment is very graceful and will appeal to men who appreciate the right thing. Suits ready to wear, from $7.50 to $25.00. Suits made to order, from $15.00 to $40.00.

JINGLES AND JESTS.

This One Dies Hard.

The man in uniform passed through the car, returned and discovered Pat still with the pipe in his mouth. "Didn't I tell you to stop smoking in this car?" shouted the conductor. "I ain't smoking," replied the man with the pipe. "What are you doing with that pipe in your mouth, then?" "What if I have me pipe in me mouth. Sure I have me feet in me boots, but I ain't walking, am I?"—Milwaukee Wisconsin.

Word to the Wise.

After a swing around the circle the happy couple had settled down in a cozy flat. One morning as she took her customary place at the breakfast table the bride placed a large revolver by the side of her plate. "Why, my dear," stammered the astonished husband, "what does that mean?" "It means, George," replied her bride-lets, "that we have biscuits of my own construction for breakfast and that no adverse criticism will be tolerated."—Chicago News.

ABOLISH TOLL BRIDGES.

Vermont Bridge Commission Makes That Recommendation.

The Vermont Bridge Commissioners are sending out the following circular letter to the selectmen of the several towns of Vermont lying on the Connecticut river.

Your attention is called to No. 157, Acts of 1904, under which this Commission has been appointed. We have addressed you previously on this subject.

It is the plan of the Commissioners to meet the citizens of each town bordering on the Connecticut river at convenient places to ascertain the wishes and needs of the people of Vermont in reference to the bridges spanning the Connecticut river.

We wish information upon the following points:

1.—In a case where a toll bridge now exists, the burden of paying toll should be taken from the citizen and tax payers and the bridge made free. We wish information as to the value of the existing structure, rates of tolls, by what law tolls are collected, and the relative amount to be paid by the town, and state of Vermont to make the same free—having reference to the proportion that should be paid by New Hampshire in this connection.

Your attention is called to a decision of the Supreme Court of the United States in The Covington and Cincinnati Bridge Co. vs. Commonwealth of Kentucky, 154 U. S. 204, (decided May 26, 1894). In that case the court held that the state of Kentucky had no power to regulate or establish tolls for crossing a bridge that connected Ohio and Kentucky.

The question is left undecided in that case, as to whether the two states, in absence of legislation by congress, can fix, by reciprocal action, the rate of toll and fare over a bridge connecting such states.

The history of the charters of the corporations that have erected the toll bridges crossing the Connecticut river should be investigated.

However, we suggest that the time has arrived when the toll bridge—a relic of the past—should be abolished in terms that will be just to all.

There seems to be no reason to burden the people and fetter interstate commerce in order to favor some corporation.

2.—If there is no bridge across the Connecticut from your town, and one is desirable and reasonably necessary for the convenience of the public, the Commissioners are seeking information on these points.

3.—If bridges have been made free at the expense of the Vermont town in co-operation with the adjoining town in New Hampshire, the Commissioners are ready to hear the facts and any suggestions as to whether the state of Vermont should reimburse such town, and to what extent, so that the report to the next session of the Vermont legislature may be complete.

4.—The Commissioners will meet all persons interested and hear testimony and suggestions at Brattleboro, Oct. 5th, 10 o'clock a. m.; Bellows Falls, Oct. 5th, 3 o'clock p. m.; Ascutneyville, Oct. 6th, 3 o'clock p. m.; Claremont, N. H., Oct. 6th, 7.30 o'clock p. m. Meetings at other places will be announced later.

Gilbert A. Davis, G. O. Ford, James B. Seaver, Board of Bridge Commissioners of Vermont.

NO HOPE FOR "FUSION."

Anti-Tammany Combination Fails Utterly in New York.

New York, Sept. 28.—Five minutes sufficed to dissipate hope of fusion between the Republicans, the Citizens' union and the Municipal Ownership League on a city ticket when representatives of the three parties last night received the report of a conference committee that it was unable to agree on candidates.

When the conference adjourned each of the parties issued a statement setting forth that they had made every effort to accomplish an anti-Tammany combination, and throwing the blame of failure of each on the other. Senator Cutting intimated that the Citizens' union would not place a third ticket in the field but that it would do its utmost to secure the election of Jerome.

Good As It's Old.

There was a man in — who kept a small draper's shop and who had an assistant who was new to the business. One day an old lady came in and asked for some silk. The youthful assistant showed her some saying: "We can do this for you at 68. 6d. a yard." The old lady asked for something better, but the assistant replied that they had nothing better. Whereupon the master came forward and said to the assistant: "I'm surprised at you showing this lady stuff of that quality; take it away and put it back on the shelf." Then, turning to the customer, he said: "You must excuse my assistant, madam, he is new to the business, but if you will allow me I will show you something very superior." He went away and returned, bringing the same piece of silk. This madam, he said, "is a very superior article, 10s. 6d. a yard. If it were not for the fact that I bought it some time ago we should have to charge you 15s., for, as you are doubtless aware, owing to the recent epidemic among the silkworms the price of silk has increased enormously of late."

The customer took the silk, paid for it, and went away. The draper thereupon lectured his assistant saying: "You'll never make a man of business, you've no commercial adaptability mark my words and remember what I said for the next time." A few days later the draper was having his dinner leaving his assistant at the counter. Hearing a noise he looked out and saw the same old lady belaboring his assistant with her umbrella. He separated them and asked the assistant what he had been doing. "Oh, said the assistant, 'I was merely carrying out your instructions. She asked for some tape and I showed her some. I said: 'We can let you have this at 8d. the dozen yards. If it wasn't for the fact that we have had it in stock some time we should have to charge 1s., for, as you are doubtless aware, owing to the recent epidemic among the tape-worms, the price of tape has gone up enormously of late.' Then she hit me with her umbrella."—British Medical Record.

A PRISONER SHOT.

Fort Ethan Allen Private Is Not in a Serious Condition.

Fort Ethan Allen, Sept. 28.—As a result of the accidental discharge of the carbine in the hands of Private August Seligman, Troop E, a sentry in charge of two prisoners who were digging sand in the rear of the 27th battery stable, Private Gordon W. Gingery, Troop B, a general prisoner, was shot in the fleshy part of the right hip and at present is confined to the post hospital. His condition is not regarded as serious. Seligman does not know how he came to discharge his gun, but it is believed that the man, thinking that his piece was locked, unconsciously pulled the trigger. Seligman was placed under arrest, the officer believing that the accident was purely accidental.

Gingery was placed in the guard house Tuesday by the officer in charge of the guard, charged with neglect of duty. He was a mounted sentry in charge of general prisoners. He dismounted from his horse, left his carbine in his saddle boot and began talking to his prisoner. For this conduct he was placed in the guard house to await the action of a general court martial.

DENOUNCED HAZING.

President Buckham Says It Will Not Be Allowed in State University.

Burlington, Sept. 28.—The 102nd academic year of the University of Vermont opened yesterday with a registration of 126 students in the freshman class, this class being by far the largest to enter in the history of the institution. The registration of freshmen on the opening day last year was 109.

The exercises in connection with the opening took place in the chapel at 8.15 o'clock. After a brief devotional service President M. H. Buckham delivered a brief address to the students. In the course of his remarks, the president heartily denounced hazing, declaring in unmistakable terms that such practices would not be tolerated by the University.
